Hungary and Bulgaria Are Upgraded

By ENDRE MARTON
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to name ambassadors to Hungary and Bulgaria shortly, following up his announcement this week raising the American diplomatic missions there to the ambassadorial level.

There is no indication as yet who the new envoys will be. The expectation is that John M. Sweeney, a career diplomat and minister to Sofia, will be named ambassador to Bulgaria, but a new man will be appointed to Budapest.

Janos Radvanyi, the Hungarian charge d'affaires in Washington, and Luben Guerassimov, the Bulgarian minister here, are likely to be elevated to the new ambassadorships for their respective countries.

In explaining the upgrading of the two diplomatic missions, U.S. officials caution against any speculation attaching undue importance to this step. It is, they say, in the U.S. interest to be represented in every country on the ambassadorial level.

When the State Department announced the changes, its spokesman said, "We believe it is clearly in our interest to be represented at this level for effective and proper conduct of relations."

The key word, officials explain, is "interest." In other words the upgrading of the missions was not, as an official put it, "a reward for good behavior."

This long overdue step, the officials said, had to be taken irrespective of other problems, international or bilateral.

Going beyond the "interest" factor, officials readily acknowledge that the Monday announcement was a new manifestation of the President's determination not to let the Viet Nam war interfere with his aim to achieve "true reconciliation" with Communist Eastern Europe.

Dean of Abbey Brings Storm on His Head

By GODFREY ANDERSON
LONDON (AP) — The dean of Westminster Abbey, England's coronation shrine, has brought a storm on his head because he plans a united service for all religions there on Human Rights.

Christians, Jews, Moslems, Hindus and Buddhists will be represented at the final major event of the abbey's year-long commemoration of its consecration 900 years ago.

Much of the hour's service will be passed in silent prayer but at 10-minute intervals a representative of one of the faiths will read a passage. There will be no spoken prayers, no music; only readings, meditation and silence.

Many Anglican churchmen are far from happy about the invitation to men of all faiths to worship in the abbey.

A similar service was held recently in St. Martin-in-the-Fields in Trafalgar Square. The lower house of the Convocation of Canterbury, composed of clergy from all over the southern half of England, passed a resolution condemning such practices.

But Dean Eric Abbott is going ahead with plans for the service, which the abbey clergy approved more than a year ago.

Because of the abbey's situation as "a royal peculiar," the dean is responsible only to Queen Elizabeth II and not to the Archbishop of Canterbury, primate of England.

The Church Times, an Anglican publication, has protested: "The Westminster plan is a decision which must be deplored as certain to give rise to widespread disquiet and dismay in the Church."

The Church Times said the service may "convey the impression to the world that one religion is as good as another. At a time when the Church of England is being urged by its leaders to accept officially authorized forms of service in the interests of restoring discipline, it is ironic to find Westminster Abbey indulging in a mangle-mangle of religious worship like this."

"My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations," quoted Dean Abbott in reply.

Crime Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles P. Farnsley, D-Ky., says that while serving as mayor of Louisville he found that proper street lighting reduces crime and aids traffic flow, and he says that proper lighting would add only 1.5 to 2 per cent of the total highway construction cost.

Sen. Dirksen Becomes Entertainer

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — What Sen. Everett M. Dirksen describes as a very interesting struggle is developing between Senate Republican liberals and conservatives over their next campaign chairman.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, took refuge in the statement that "nothing has been settled" when asked by a reporter about what now looks like a three-man race for the job held by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky.

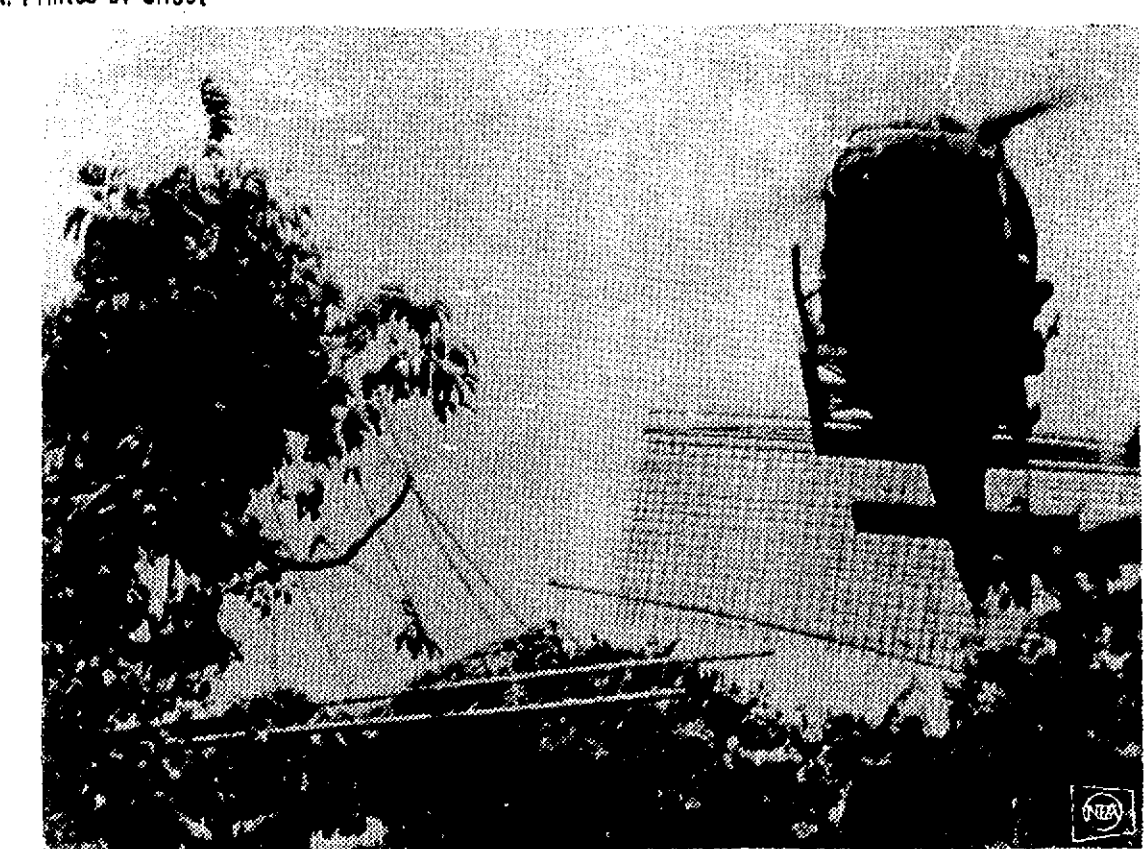

By custom Morton will step out of the Campaign Committee chairmanship in January because his Senate seat will be at stake in 1968.

In an atmosphere charged with presidential politics, Sens. George Murphy of California, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and John G. Tower of Texas are being advanced as prospective candidates.

The next chairman will be chosen by the conference of Republican senators, meeting after the 90th Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Dirksen has assumed a neutral attitude up to this point — a stance he might not be able to maintain much longer.

The campaign chairman's primary job is to raise money speeches at fund-raising dinners, huddles with local political

Delay Medicare

OTTAWA (AP) — The House of Commons Thursday night narrowly approved 50-42 the Liberal government's proposal to put off the start of federal medicare insurance until July 1, 1968.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's party promised during the 1965 election campaign to launch the program next July 1. The Cabinet decided in September to delay it. Finance Minister Mitchell Sharp told the House a need to hold down taxes and prevent inflation were among the reasons for the postponement.

Ground Water Levels Reduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ground-water levels, reduced by the drought of recent years, have been restored in Maine, northern New Hampshire, Vermont and parts of West Virginia, the U.S. Geological Survey reports. Recovery has been very limited in parts of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Historians have not been able to document the claim that the first American flag was made by Betsy Ross.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The wedding of Miss Sherry Lynn Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eulas W. Burke, Hope, and Mr. Jimmy L. Minton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Minton, Maud, Texas, was solemnized Nov. 18 at 7:00 PM in the home of the bride's parents with a few close relatives and friends present.

Baskets of white gladiolas, stock, and greenery marked the place where the double ring ceremony was performed by O. T. Denman, minister of the 5th and Grady St. Church of Christ.

Entering on the arm of her father the bride wore a floor-length ivory satin dress, patterned in the fitted A-line style, with rounded neckline and long sleeves. The veil of illusion fell from an ivory satin headband covered with ivory satin roses, and was sprinkled with miniature satin roses. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, lemon leaf, and ivy. The corsage from the bouquet was pinned at her shoulder later.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Gloria Jean Martin, Texarkana, and her floor-length dress was of burgundy velvet, fashioned in exact likeness of the bride's. She wore a headpiece of matching satin roses and carried a single long stem red rose. Serving his brother-in-law as best man was Mr. William Glen Latham, Texarkana.

The mother of the bride wore a two piece dress of light blue brocade with black accessories, and wore a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore an olive green suit of bonded wool with brown accessories, and also wore a white carnation corsage. The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Jennie Harris, was attired in a dark green two piece dress of wool knit with black accessories, and wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, the reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The table was covered with a burgundy cloth, overlaid with lace. On this was placed the three tiered wedding cake, attractively arranged on mirrors. Candles were also seen here, with a centerpiece of pink roses. Serving the cake was Miss Linda Arrington of Magnolia and Hope, and Mrs. Clifton East, aunt of the bride, poured the punch. Others assisting were Mrs. Pete Martin and Mrs. Clara Arterbury, aunt of the bride.

Attending the bride's book was Mrs. William Glen Latham, sister of the groom. This table was covered with a white linen cloth and near the book a memory candle was placed. An attractive wedding ring arrangement of white gladiolas, roses, lilies-of-the-valley, greenery, and wedding bells was also seen nearby.

Little Miss Gina Minton, sister of the groom, and Misses Jo Ann and Ginger Burke, sisters of the bride, assisted the younger cousins of the bride in dispensing rice bags.

The couple is at home on Wood Street in Texarkana until Mr. Minton enters the service.

Homemakers Learn New Ways

Hempstead County homemakers learned recently to use the newer techniques of tailoring construction that save time and energy, and give professional looking results.

Twelve homemakers began in 1962, participating in special clothing construction short courses taught by Cooperative Extension Clothing Specialist, Cora Lee Guthridge. Under the guidance of the specialist five short courses have been conducted during the learning process including training on pattern alteration, unit method of construction, cotton dress, underlined dress, and a tailored coat.

Homemakers began by constructing a basic pattern adjusted to individual shape. These adjustments were used throughout training, insuring better fitting garments.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A fellow has to look after himself in the movie business, and that's why Jack Lemmon has formed his own company, Jalem Productions.

During the first dozen years of his film career, the Harvard-educated actor placed his destiny in the hands of other producers. The results were often good — one Oscar, supporting actor, "Mister Roberts," 1955; and four nominations as star, "Some Like It Hot," "The Apartment," "Days of Wine and Roses," "Irma la Douce."

But in between those milestones were other films which did little to enhance the Lemmon image, though most were financially successful. He found himself cast as a satyr — "Under the Yum Yum Tree" — or as the man who sacrifices his principles to go along with the system — "The Fortune Cookie."

Now Jalem has joined with producer Martin Manulis for the film version of Murray Shisgal's far-out comedy play, "Luv."

"It's wild," Lemmon reports. "The wildest part I've ever played."

His appearance bore this out. His hair was unkempt, his cheeks hollow — he dropped 25 pounds to 140 for the role. He wore baggy pajamas, a shabby robe and sneakers that looked like Howard Hughes discards. He plays one of life's losers, a would-be suicide.

"I'm taking a big chance on this role," Lemmon declared as he puffed on a cigar stub. "The guy goes against all comedy principles: he feels sorry for himself."

"That's a dangerous thing to do with a audience; people immediately lose sympathy with a character who feels sorry for himself. The greatness of Chaplin was that he always played the underdog but he never was beaten."

"Even when he was starving, he remained indomitable. Instead of becoming defeated, he figured out how he could make a meal out of his shoe."

It takes five or six weeks for an ostrich egg to hatch.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Benny turned up on NBC Thursday night in his annual special and, for a lot of older viewers, it was a happy reunion with a friend of long standing.

In the whirling world of television, Jack Benny does not change, even though his show does, slightly. There were the anticipated "cheap jokes," any number of the long Benny takes, a little violin playing — and some smooth help from his guest stars.

Trini Lopez and his guitar were there for some songs; the Smothers Brothers did a variation of one of their routines.

The big number was a spoof of the "Miss America Pageant," Jack, in a horrendous black wig, presided over "The Miss Northern and Southern Hemisphere Pageant," and introduced 10 very pretty girls as finalists. Phyllis Diller was on hand for comedy contrast.

It was all good, comfortable fun, more like a visit than an extravaganza. Maybe Jack Benny could increase his television visits — three or four a year would be about right.

Sex is rearing its head in a most discreet form on network television: the documentary, ABC's "Stage 67" will broadcast Irving Gittlin's "Sex in the Sixties" on Jan. 11. This, according to the advance publicity, will be "a penetrating inquiry into the public state of sexual values, behavior and discussion." Participants range from the authors of the best-selling "Human Sexual Response" to Hugh Hefner, of Playboy and bunnies note.

Later in the season, NBC also will tap Hefner's expertise in the course of "The Pursuit of Pleasure." This will concern our "new fun morality," from the topless fad to teen-age troubles.

HALLOWEEN REPERCUSSIONS

Dear Helen: It's too late to bring back our little girl's kitten, but maybe my letter will keep other cats from harm.

A drive-in theater here advertised free admission to anyone bringing a black cat to the Halloween party, a big show they were putting on. One cat: one free ticket. How completely heartless can a manager get?

I don't know how many animals were stolen that night, then later turned loose at the lot along the highway to be run over or lost.

We do know our kitten was one of them. Some older boys grabbed her from our daughter's arms when she was out trick or treating. She cried for three days. Even now she cries, when she thinks of her pet. And she is so fearful of teenagers she won't walk home from school by herself.

Why do adults make offers that turn young people cruel? — MOTHER

Dear Mother: Why indeed — only for money, that's all.

This is a new low: baiting a promotion trap with live animals. I hope your town has seen the last of it. — H.

Dear Helen: I received an anonymous letter yesterday, and I haven't been able to think straight since. It said:

Dear B. : This is not to hurt you but to wise you up. I have been in love with your husband for four years and up to two months ago have had an affair with him. Just so you won't think this is made-up, I'll give you dates and places:

Your baby was born while your husband was on a business trip. I was with him. You can check the hotel registration.

The ring your son wears: that was mine. I gave it back to your husband during one of our arguments.

The operation he had three years ago: that was my birthday present. No more worry about pregnancy.

When your Dad died and your husband came back early in your brother's sports car, we had a party at your house, nor was this the first time at your house. The sheets in your bedroom were pink with hearts on them.

Sundays when you think he is playing golf? He was with me.

The stick pin and cuff links with the black onyx in the center. This was my Christmas gift to him.

These are just the highlights. You don't have to worry anymore. I caught him in a hotel with another woman and was enough for me! — (No Name)

Helen, what do I do? All these things she said are true. My husband was away when I was at the hospital; he did have an operation, but we both agreed on that; he came home early after my father's death "to get back to work at the office." My sheets are pink, with hearts. The ring and cuff links are ominously present.

I've hidden the letter away, but I find it hard to even look at my husband. Is there a solution? — SECOND FIDDLE

Hope Boys Win But the Girls Lose

BY LARRY DON WRIGHT
HOPE STAR SPORTSWRITER

The fast break and press paid off once again for the Hope Bobcats Saturday night as they slipped past the Nashville Scrappers, 58-52, in a game which closely resembled a track meet at Nashville's Whiteside Hall.

In the girls match which preceded it the Ladycats went down in defeat to the Nashville girls, 51-46, despite a brilliant effort by Hope.

Although the fast break, which is the Bobcats specialty this year, was still not executed flawlessly, it has improved every game. It was definitely a determining factor in the outcome of the match.

Bobcat Head Coach Joe Austin had praise for several Bobcat players and the overall team effort. In addition he was pleased by the spirited tempo which was maintained throughout the contest. Coach Austin is an ardent believer in the fast game, and feels the emphasis placed on the fast break at Hope will enable the Cats to win those games which move at a rapid pace.

He also added concerning this fast moving type of basketball, "It makes it much more exciting."

Despite the rapid rate of action, points were not so plentiful. This may be attributed to good defense by both teams.

Actually however, the game did get off to a very slow start. The cats got things going the last two minutes of the first quarter of play, though, and that seemed to set it rolling. The quarter ended with the Scrappers out front, 13-10.

A fast break and two free throws later Hope had taken the lead, 14-13, which they held till midway through the third period. They held a 28-24 halftime advantage.

With 4:38 remaining in the third period Nashville evened things up at 31 all. From there the Scrappers built a quick four-point lead. However by the end of the quarter it was 37-37. Larry East gunned for 15 points in the final period as the Cats pulled away in the last moments. The final margin of victory was reached with 3:50 left in the game.

One of the real high points of the Bobcats performance was their exceptional percentage of free throws. The Cats hit for 86 per cent from the free throw line.

East was high point for Hope with 22 followed by Danny Griffiths with 13 and Stan Reyenga with 10. Others included Dwight Galloway with 8 and Luther Shaw who had 7.

The Bobcats only returning starter from last year, 6-3 senior Stan Parris was unable to play due to a sprained ankle.

Playing again without the services of ailing gunner Carol Anthony, the Ladycats narrowly missed pulling off a brilliant come from behind victory over the Nashville girls.

Nashville's seven-point lead from the first quarter was the basic strength of their win over the Ladycats who played a fast game of catch up through the last three quarters.

Finally in the final stanza the Ladycats pulled to a tie in score with the home team. However it was short lived, though the deficit was slim from there on out.

Although the girls have yet to win in three outings, all signs are very encouraging that this will be another winning season. Despite their results, each of the first three games have produced alot of desire and hustle from the HHS girls.

Katherine Coleman was high for Hope with 24 points while Jo McKamie had 15, Linda Kaye Reese had 4, and Gail Hartfield had 3.

The Bobcats will play tonight in the OBC Tournament in Arkadelphia against Lincoln High, an all colored school of Camden. Both the Bobcats and the Ladycats will see action tomorrow night in Jones Field House against the Gordon teams beginning at 6:30.

Bryant Says Should Be Year of Tide

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The year of the Great Tide has ended, leaving Bear Bryant still insisting it should be the year of the Tide.

"I think we deserve the national championship," the Alabama coach told a national television audience after his Crimson Tide crushed state rival Auburn 31-0 Saturday.

He makes a pretty good case in his final plea before the bowls replace the polls.

The victory made Alabama the nation's only major unbeaten, untied football team at 10-0 — it still has a postseason date with Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

The Tide defense also was the best in the country, giving up only 37 points.

"This is a much sounder team than the past two teams that won championships," Bryant said in his spiel for an unprecedented third straight crown.

The two teams ranked in front of Alabama, No. 3 in The Associated Press poll last week, are Notre Dame and Michigan State. They fought to a 10-10 tie several weeks ago when the Irish chose to run out the clock in the final minute.

"I want to emphasize that I don't want to criticize any coach because I don't know what his game plans might be," Bryant said.

"I will say that since at Alabama everything is based on winning, I wouldn't go for a tie late in the game. I believe my boys would be disappointed in me if I did, because we wouldn't be doing what I preach."

The decision never presented itself Saturday as junior quarterback Kenny Stabler hit 11 of 16 passes for 163 yards and a 63-yard touchdown to Ray Perkins and halfback Les Kelley ran for two more scores.

In the only other games on this final weekend of regular season play Oklahoma State's defense saved a 15-14 upset over Oklahoma and Ken Hebert led Houston past Utah 34-14.

After the pollsters have their final say this week, the bowls take over starting Saturday when Miami of Florida and Virginia Tech meet in the Liberty Bowl in Memphis.

A number of smaller bowls will be played that same day — the Tangerine Bowl, the Grantland Rice Bowl, the Pecan Bowl, the Camellia Bowl and the NAAI playoff.

Then comes Mississippi and Texas in the Bluebonnet Bowl Dec. 17, the Blue-Gray game and the Sun Bowl matching Wyoming and Florida State on Dec. 24 and the North-South game Dec. 26.

The major bowls conclude the flurry of activity. They are Dec. 31 — Gator Bowl, Jacksonville, Fla.; Tennessee (7-3) vs. Syracuse (8-2), Cotton Bowl, Dallas; Georgia (9-1) vs. Southern Methodist (8-2), East-West Shrine game, San Francisco.

Jan. 2 — Rose Bowl, Pasadena, Calif.; Purdue (8-2) vs. Southern California (7-3), Sugar Bowl, New Orleans; Alabama (10-0) vs. Nebraska (9-1), Orange Bowl, Miami; Georgia Tech (9-1) vs. Florida (8-2).

Jan. 6 — Hula Bowl, Honolulu.

Jan. 7 — Senior Bowl, Mobile, Ala.

Demonstration in Judo Here Tues. Night

On Tuesday night, December 6, there will be an exhibition of judo, karate, and Ikedo. The exhibition will be put on by 3 men, Joe Hooten, presently employed by M and M Leasing of Hope, Don Hickman, a City engineer of Texarkana, and Mike Connell, a high school student of Texarkana. Hooten is a black belt; Hickman and Connell, green belts.

The demonstration will be held between the Bobcats host Gordon at Hones Field House. Sports fans in Hope area should find these demonstrations very enjoyable.

Senior girls basketball game will start at 6:30.

Yerger Drops Own Cage Tournament

BY JAMES HAMILTON

In the tournament that washed here in Harris Gymnasium at Yerger High School, Saturday, Yerger was unsuccessful in defeating either opponent. But despite the Tiger's defeat, there was plenty of excitement with the other contending teams.

The first game played was between the Arkadelphia Juniors and Magnolia. Arkadelphia proved to be the better of the two teams as they defeated Magnolia 44-26.

In the second game, it was the Yerger Seniors against the Arkadelphia Seniors. Arkadelphia, having the height and the experience of playing one game this year, defeated the Tigers 59-48.

In the third game, the Ashdown Juniors boys took advantage of the Yerger's inexperience and defeated them by a score of 54-27.

The Arkadelphia Juniors, after defeating the Magnolia Juniors, went up against the power of the Prescott Juniors. But this time they were unsuccessful as the Prescott maneuvers and abilities proved to be beyond their control. The final score in that game was Prescott 43 and Arkadelphia 12.

The Seniors of Arkadelphia were again victorious as they defeated the contending Prescott Seniors 59-43.

The Prescott Juniors won out in the finals by defeating Ashdown by a score of 65-36.

In the last game of the tournament the Arkadelphia Seniors proved to be fighters all the way through by defeating Ashdown 54-38.

After the tournament Floyd Young presented an outstanding Player Trophy award to Harry Browning of the Arkadelphia Buffaloes. The 1st place trophy went to the Prescott Juniors for having won through the finals.

The Tigers were not able to win any of their games because of their inexperience. The only persons on the Junior team who have had some experience of playing in the previous years are Frank Prater and Lee Davis. With a little more practice, they

Nance Leads Boston Over Buffalo

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

For Jim Nance 26 pounds was the difference between the bench and the record book.

Nance's running highlighted Boston's 14-3 American Football League victory over Buffalo Sunday, a victory that all but gave the Patriots the Eastern Division title. Nance scored once and gained 109 yards, raising his record rushing total to 1,234 yards for the season.

All in all, it's a big change from the former Syracuse star's 1965 season in the AFL, his first, during which he spent most of the time gaining weight instead of yards.

"I wasn't concentrating on what I was doing," he said in the Boston locker room after the game. "The weight kept going up and I didn't even notice it."

When the scale hit 262, Nance hit the bench, but this year there have been some changes made.

"I got my weight down to 236," he said. I can make better, sharper cuts now. And I set my goal as being the best back in the league."

How well he has succeeded is shown partially in the standings of the Eastern Division. Boston has only to tie its last two games against Houston and New York to win the title.

Also, it is not totally out of the question for Nance to beat the second-year rushing total of 1,527 yards gained by Jim Brown with the Cleveland Browns in 1958.

Nance's touchdown was a 65-yard effort — the longest rush of his career — and he also supplied a key block that broke quarterback Babe Parilli for a 3-yard scoring rush.

In other AFL games, San Diego beat Houston, 28-22, Denver took Miami, 17-7, and, in a Saturday game, Oakland and New York fought to a 28-28 tie.

John Hadl hit Jacques Mackinnon with a 12-yard pass in the end zone with just 31 seconds left in the game for San Diego's winning margin. Hadl also threw scoring passes of 78 and 51 yards to Lance Alworth and another of 24 yards to Gary Garrison.

Charlie Mitchell ran 79 yards for a touchdown after taking a screen pass from Max Choboian as the Broncos won their third game in their last four starts. The only touchdown scored by the Dolphins, who were stymied by a tough Denver defense, came on Tom Erlandson's 26-yard runback of an intercepted pass.

The Jets, who were eliminated from the Eastern Division title race, gained the tie on a 47-yard touchdown run by Emerson Boozer with a minute to play and a two-point conversion pass from Joe Namath to George Sauer.

Missouri Tigers Maul Arkansas

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri Tigers took charge in the last half to beat Arkansas 73-66 in their basketball opener here Saturday night.

Missouri trailed 31-30 at the half and the Razorbacks tied it at 44-all after falling behind, but the Tigers shot to a 55-45 lead when 6-foot-7 Larry Petrick broke the tie and Tom Johnson pumped in seven of Missouri's next nine points.

Arkansas' Tommy Rowland led scoring with 27 points, hitting 11 of 17 field shots.

BEATLE John Lennon turned up in a top hat and steel-rimmed glasses in London where location shots for a television spectacular are being made. Lennon is one of the stars of the film, which will be shown in England during the holiday season.

THE WELL CHILD

Unimpaired Sight Vital To the Learning Process

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

About 85 per cent of your child's learning is done with his eyes. If his vision is defective, learning will be more difficult for him. Many visual defects can be corrected if they are recognized early and appropriate treatment is applied. It is estimated that the visual defects of about 100,000 children in this country pass each year beyond the stage where treatment will help them.

It is, therefore, important to recognize any difficulty your child may have with his vision. This does not necessarily mean a trip to an ophthalmologist. In making routine checks of your child most pediatricians now include visual testing — using picture charts for children who have not yet learned the alphabet. It is important that each eye be tested separately because subnormal vision in one eye is a danger signal.

When one eye has fallen behind, the brain soon learns to disregard the images sent to it from that eye. Covering the good eye is often necessary to allow the backward eye to catch up and to re-establish its image in the brain's visual center. This patch must completely cover the good eye and be worn continuously except while asleep until the vision in the backward eye has been brought to 20/20, the normal level.

Start protecting your child's vision in infancy. When you take him outdoors don't let the direct rays of the sun fall on his eyes. As he grows older avoid letting him play with scissors, ice picks, knives and pencils until he can handle them safely. When he starts to school be alert for signs of eye trouble, such as watery eyes, recurrent styes, squinting, rubbing his eyes and difficulty reading.

spent the Thanksgiving holidays in St. Louis, Missouri with her daughter Mrs. Willie B. Lomax, her son Mr. Bert Scott and family. Other members of the family who were present were Mrs. Ann Tutson, Mrs. Merdise Watson and son, all of Indianapolis, Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. Arthell Lomax, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cooper, Robert Jones (friends of Jacqueline and Michael Lomax, all of St. Louis, Claudia Cater, Gueles Willis, Dorothy Doyle, James Thompson, John Clay and Cleophus Mayhew.

NOVIA WILLIAMS
Mrs. Novia Williams of Emmet passed away Wednesday, November 30. She is survived by her husband; two sons, S. T. and Robert of Emmet; two sisters, Rena Cheatum of Emmet and Evia McKeenan of Kansas City, Missouri; two brothers, Roy McKeenan of Emmet and Henry McKeenan of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Funeral Services will be Sunday at 2 p.m. at Snell Cemetery.

The U.S. dollar bill bears a copy of the portrait of Washington by Gilbert Stuart.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

MUDFLAT ART in the mire of San Francisco Bay resulted in this goggle-eyed creature that appears to wave cheerily at passing motorists near Nimitz Freeway. Tongue-in-cheek student artists used discarded tires for eyes and driftwood for body, arms and legs, and clothed their creation in an old carpet.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

World's tallest living thing is a redwood tree (Sequoia sempervirens) located on the east bank of Redwood Creek in Humboldt County, Calif., says The World Almanac. The giant tree stands 367.8 feet, about the height of a 30-story building, and has a girth of 44 feet. In the entire world, only California and a small area in Oregon produce these trees.

Joe Harrison of the Social Security office in Texarkana spoke to the Rotary Club Friday at its luncheon meeting in the Town and Country. Dealing with Social Security, his talk also included information about the Medicare Program.

"Thirty-two hundred people receive $172,000 a month from Social Security in Hempstead County," Harrison said, and he added, "and that does not include Medicare patients." He urged those who take advantage of the Medicare Program to please take their Medicare cards with them when they go to the doctor or hospital. "Fifty percent of the patients have not been doing this," he said.

The speaker discussed the 1965 amendments to the Social Security law and how the program is related to school children, widows, and people over 72. Questions were, then put before him until the meeting was adjourned. Program chairman Bob Willhite introduced Mr. Harrison.

Paul Klipsch, club president, welcomed visiting Rotarians John Hawkins of Texarkana and Ben Hardin of Emmet, and other guests, Joe Wray, Rolling Meadows, Ill., Don Walker, Texarkana, and Peter Lackmann, Henderson, Tex.

Panamanians Complain

PANAMA (AP) — Panamanian legislators and officials complained angrily Thursday that U.S. troops had prevented a Panamanian commercial plane with nine passengers from taking off for two hours at a Panamanian base.

Speakers in the National Assembly called the incident an "outrage" by "an army of occupation." Foreign Minister Fernando Elea protested to U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Adair Jr.

The pilot, Capt. Gilberto Gonzalez said he made an unscheduled landing in bad weather at the base at Rio Hato, where U.S. troops are training. He said four armed U.S. troops surrounded his plane after he refused to provide identification and aircraft documents requested by a U.S. sergeant. He said the soldiers left and he was told by a Panamanian guardsman that he could take off.

The U.S. military command said the information requested of the pilot is required by both Panamanian and U.S. Army regulations.

"At no time did United States personnel threaten or molest the pilot or passengers on the aircraft," the U.S. statement added.

7-Footer Sets Records for UCLA

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Vic Bubas, a highly successful young basketball coach, had a fine time Saturday night. And a dreadful time Sunday morning.

It concerned a little item he read in the paper about Lew Alcindor and UCLA and was enough to give a man in Bubas' position the shakes.

Alcindor, the highly publicized 7-foot-1 phenom, made his varsity debut with UCLA Saturday night, dropped in 56 points and spearheaded the top-ranked Bruins to a 105-90 victory over Southern California.

Bubas' Duke Blue Devils, fourth-ranked in The Associated Press preseason poll, opened with a 105-90 victory over Southern California.

Bubas' Duke Blue Devils, fourth-ranked in The Associated Press preseason poll, opened with a 105-90 victory over Southern California.

Fine. Dandy. Bubas felt great. Now he faces two games this week with UCLA at Los Angeles, two games against the intimidating Alcindor who wasn't happy with his school record performance and vows he'll improve.

"I wasn't satisfied with my performance," Alcindor said. "I thought my shooting was adequate, but my defense could be much better. I've got to work more on my defense."

UCLA Coach John Wooden concedes the point that Alcindor's defense could stand some work, but added:

"Nobody is going to stop him from scoring points."

Alcindor's performance in his much ballyhooed debut seemed to bear it out. He hit on 23 of 32 field goal attempts and 10 of 14 from the free throw line.

"Alcindor is such an awesome scorer," said Wooden, "that sometimes he scares me."

So can you imagine how Bubas feels, heading into those games at UCLA Friday and Saturday?

The rest of the nation's top-ranked teams, though overshadowed by Alcindor's performance, came through as expected in other games on the first big Saturday of the college season.

One of the most impressive was third-ranked Kentucky's 104-84 rout of Virginia at Lexington, Ky., with All-America Louie Dampier tossing in 31 points in the Wildcats' opener. It was victory No. 753 for coach Adolph Rupp.

No. 2 Texas Western, the defending national champion, flashed past Abilene Christian 85-46 for its second victory of the season and 30th in 31 starts over two years.

For the others, No. 5 Louisville whipped Georgetown, Ky. 99-81 at Louisville, No. 6 New Mexico crushed Santa Clara 72-54 at Albuquerque, No. 7 Houston beat Minnesota 86-75 at Minneapolis, No. 8 Western Kentucky scored a 52-44 road triumph over Memphis State, No. 9 North Carolina whipped Penn State 93-63 at Greensboro, N.C., and No. 10 Cincinnati trimmed Wisconsin 77-70 in overtime at Madison, Wis.

The top teams, excluding Duke and UCLA, get into action in a hurry this week, with Houston at Michigan and Illinois at Kentucky in key games tonight, while Texas Western is host to East Texas Tuesday night.

Swept Back 200 Years in England

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP) — It was like being swept back 200 years into the stagecoach days of gracious Georgian England.

Drawn by four prancing horses, a superbly preserved 18th century stagecoach rolled through England's green and winding—and asphalted—ways from historic Runnymede toward historic Windsor.

Eleven guests, bundled to their noses in huge warm coats on a cold day, perched on padded cushion seats atop the old coach, with magnificent views in all directions.

A postilion named Trevor, dressed in a gold-braided scarlet coat and leather leggings, looted on a long brass coaching horn as we rumbled through each village.

Hundreds of villagers stared in astonishment.

Everything looked 18th century except one thing—the two shapely legs of miniskirted Jutta Morris of the British Travel Association, twinkling from beneath her heavy cloak.

"It's the most marvelous feeling in the world!" Jutta shouted above the wind. "Despite my, er, ah, skirt—I feel as if I'm back in another century!"

Commencing next May, Keith Hancock and his associates will inaugurate three-day trips by stagecoach from Runnymede to Stratford on Avon.

Three days on an 18th century coach?

"Yes," he said. "We'll do only an hour at a time on the coach. After every hour we get off, rest, sightsee, drink, eat and so on, and mind you only three hours of travel a day. You see, we do but 30 miles a day and the horses, with ease, do 10 miles an hour."

And the charges?
"One hundred fifty dollars a

Monday, December 5, 1965
person," he said, "and this includes hotels along the way, meals, teas, and for that matter, tips. We only ask that visitor pay for his own drink. In addition to 15 people on of the coach, four or five may be accommodated inside. How did the idea take shape?
"Two years ago a pal and I hired a stagecoach and a copter for a trip to Bristol," said Hancock. "The helicopter was for the quick trip and the coach was sort of gimmick. "Everyone loved the coach though. They seemed to like better than the helicopter that gave us the idea."
The organization is called 1 Century Travel, Ltd.

Our New Color Machine Second in United States

At the time of our announcement of The Star's purchase of the Berkeley Direct Screen System for four-color printing (Nov. 28) we reported it was No. 1 for Arkansas newspapers - what we didn't know until this week-end was that we had understated the case. We are the No. 2 installation for the entire United States!

This information reached us in a letter dated Dec. 1 from John Reidy, public relations officer for Berkeley Technical Corp., New York City. It's a fascinating inside report on the overnight technical changes going on among American newspapers. For instance, it brackets the Cowles family's Suffolk-Sun (Deer Park, Long Island, New York) and the Hope (Ark.) Star as the No. 1 and No. 2 purchasers, both small-town - while the giant Chicago Tribune has bought the same machine we have, a machine that was announced only last month.

Mr. Reidy writes a good letter. Here it is in full - and we have sent him 500 reprints of our front page of Nov. 28 and have furnished Editor & Publisher, New York trade journal, with the requested story on The Star:

Dear Mr. Washburn: We at Berkeley Technical Corp. were delighted to see the enthusiasm displayed by your lively paper, the Hope Star, in the announcement to its readers, that color pictures produced by the Berkeley Direct Screen System will be printed in January.

At the outset, it would be deeply appreciated if we could obtain 100 or more tear sheets. If it is possible, of your edition of Monday, November 28, for promotional purposes.

We also wish to publicize the fact that a small circulation paper such as the Star is employing the most ultra-modern method of color reproduction. With this in mind, we would appreciate obtaining any story and picture material relative to the Berkeley Direct Screen installation and operation, along with comments from the people concerned with its use at the Hope Star.

You will be interested in knowing that the first newspaper in the United States to place the Berkeley Direct Screen System in operation is the newly opened Cowles newspaper, the Suffolk-Sun (Deer Park, Long Island, New York). Unlike your machine, theirs is the smaller 4x5 model. I know that Jerry Walker, managing editor of Editor & Publisher, would be delighted with a good detailed story and pictures of your Berkeley Direct Screen System at the Hope Star. The unusual aspect of this story is the fact that the first two newspapers in the United States using the Direct Screen System are small community newspapers showing the way to fast daily newspaper color over the big circulation metropolitan dailies. I should note at this point, however, that the Chicago Tribune has its order in for the same Direct Screen System as you will be using at the Star.

I would suggest that you send Walker the copy of your paper in which the announcement was made on the Berkeley Direct Screen System and any other background information and pictures you may be able to obtain of the system installation as soon as possible. If I appear overly enthusiastic about your new color operation, it is because of an old love of the newspaper business, having spent 39 years with the late New York Mirror, where I was chief photographer when it died in 1963. Very sincerely yours,

BERKELEY TECHNICAL CORP.

Violation Penalties Stiff

ALBANY, N.Y. Previously, three-point violations were confined to speeding and reckless driving.

Students Asked to End Boycott

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) - Chancellor Roger W. Heyns pleaded with leaflet today with striking Berkeley students at the University of California as some students and teachers planned to continue a classroom boycott.

"Reflect upon your real reason for being at Cal, and give first priorities to your studies," Heyns said - as final exams approached - in leaflets distributed at campus entrances by university employees.

The student strike committee's decision to resume the boycott following the weekend came Sunday after Heyns flatly refused to negotiate the dispute in the presence of nonstudents in either an active or advisory capacity.

Heyns apparently was referring to Mario Savio, a non-student strike leader who also led, as a student, the massive free speech movement demonstrations at the campus in 1964 which resulted in 700 arrests.

The dispute that began last Wednesday over an on-campus Navy recruiting table led to a sit-in, a fight and the arrest of 10 persons, including six non-students.

In reply to Heyns' brief, sharply worded message Sunday, the strike leaders said: "The strike committee is distressed" by Heyns' refusal. "We cannot believe that if the chancellor does not truly desire to enter into meaningful negotiations."

Tom Irwin, press secretary, a non-student, said the strike would continue.

Heyns promised a "student-oriented" plan to bring reform to the campus. He said he would report on it to the faculty's Academic Senate today.

No reliable estimates are available on the effectiveness of the strike. Some observers on the campus say no more than a few thousand of the 27,500 students are participating. Many thousands, however, have attended rallies.

Prisoners Offer Kidney Donations

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Two convicts serving life sentences at Cummins Prison Farm will donate a kidney to two women who have suffered a chronic kidney disease.

The kidney transplants will be performed by a team of physicians at the University of Arkansas Medical Center here, a team that has been successful in nine previous transplant operations.

Dr. W. J. Flanigan told The Associated Press late Sunday night that Mrs. Sam Ratliff, 39-year-old mother of four from Fayetteville, will undergo surgery first, probably Friday.

Flanigan said Mrs. Lillie Bell Lewis, 48, of Earle will probably have the surgery performed either one or two weeks later.

He said the two women and both of the convicts have the same type blood. Two other convicts had volunteered to give a kidney but did not have the right blood type, Flanigan said.

There had been speculation that the convicts had taken their lead from an Oklahoma convict who had his life sentence paroled after donating a kidney to a Tulsa woman.

Flanigan said such was not the case, however, that the inmates had not heard of the Oklahoma situation until they came here to volunteer.

He said Mrs. Ratliff and Mrs. Lewis have had both kidneys removed and that the equivalent of an artificial kidney has been used on each once a week.

Mrs. Lewis has undergone two previous transplants, Flanigan said, both using kidneys from cadavers. The second unsuccessful transplant was removed a few days ago, he said.

Georgia Vote Case Before High Court

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) - The fight over selection of Georgia's next governor goes before the Supreme Court today in a classic test of the right of states to run their own elections.

The battle is three-sided, its overtones broadly significant. Specifically at issue in the one-day hearing is the constitutionality of a 142-year-old section of the Georgia Constitution.

It provides that when no candidate for governor gets a majority of the popular vote in an election the state Legislature is to choose between the two candidates who got the most votes.

Such was the case when Georgians balloted for governor Nov. 8, the Republican candidate, Howard H. Callaway, got 451,032 votes and the Democratic candidate, Lester G. Maddox, 448,598.

Passing up the two segregationists, 57,832 Georgians cast write-in votes for former Gov. Ellis G. Arnall, a moderate.

As a result, Callaway had a plurality but not the required majority of the total vote.

Under the Georgia Constitution this would have thrown the election into the State Legislature, which convenes Jan. 9.

With the Democrats in overwhelming control, Maddox's election would be likely.

However, on Nov. 17, a three-judge federal court in Atlanta ruled the Georgia provision unconstitutional. It said if the Legislature were allowed to choose between Callaway and Maddox "the candidate receiving the lesser number of votes (on Nov. 8) may be elected."

The court did not say who could make the choice.

Now the Supreme Court, in reviewing the lower court's ruling, is faced with a three-sided tangle.

Simply put, it is this: Georgia officials want the high court to permit the Legislature to pick the governor. They ask reversal of the lower court's ruling.

Twelve voters considered Callaway backers want the Supreme Court to direct the lower court to order a runoff election, "on the earliest practicable date," between Callaway and Maddox.

The American Civil Liberties Union, which also is involved in the case, contends a new election should be held, open to all candidates.

There is no way of knowing when the Supreme Court will announce its decision. But by speeding up its consideration of the case it has set the stage for a ruling before the new legislature convenes.

On a broader scale, the dispute gives the court an opportunity to say whether states, in instances like Georgia's, can provide an indirect means of electing state officials.

In other words, when voters fall in an election to make a decisive choice may an indirect substitute, such as the state legislature, make the final choice for them?

He said a legislator learns early there are "certain interests, or prejudices, of his constituents which are dangerous to trifle with."

Some of these prejudices, he said, are not of fundamental importance to the welfare of the nation and the legislator therefore is "justified in humoring them, even though he may disapprove."

He said he didn't consider the endless battle in Congress over abolishing the poll tax - the big civil rights issue of the 1940s - as of fundamental importance and so would "follow the views of the people of my state."

But, he said, on an issue as important as supporting the United Nations, he would support it no matter how his constituents felt.

Fulbright has needed presidents other than Johnson. In 1958 he called Eisenhower's foreign policy a "drift to disaster."

Controversy Hovers Over Fulbright, He Creates Some Himself

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) - Controversy hovers over Sen. J.W. Fulbright like an umbrella. Some he creates himself. Some of it lies in wait for him.

He went to Stockholm Sunday to deliver a lecture and was met at the airport by a bunch of hard-nosed Swedish newsmen who quizzed him on foreign affairs and civil rights. It was hardly an illuminating session.

The Arkansas Democrat was widely known before he arrived, not only as chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee but as one of President Johnson's most persistent critics on American involvement in Viet Nam and in the Dominican Republic's crisis of 1965.

The Swedes even knew his record on civil rights. The Swedish press had described him as a "liberal on foreign policy who is strongly conservative on the civil rights issue."

Fulbright refused to answer most questions on Viet Nam but on civil rights said "there has been great misunderstanding abroad, here and elsewhere, on this very matter, which is an internal matter of the United States."

He suggested a solution should begin with efforts to improve educational, health and social conditions for the Negro and pointed out that "my state has never had any riots like those in Watts (Los Angeles) or Chicago."

But, if one of the Swedish newsmen had been up on recent American history, he could have pointed out that, while Arkansas had no riots, in 1957 it provided the first great civil rights crisis.

This was a test between the federal government and Southern states in carrying out the Supreme Court's 1954 decision banning public school segregation. In 1957 Gov. Orval Faubus used National Guardsmen to keep Negro children from entering Central High School.

Then President Dwight D. Eisenhower had to use federal troops to back up a court order to integrate the school. Fulbright was criticized by liberals at the time for not speaking out against Faubus.

Yet, Fulbright was one of the very few senators who had the courage to denounce Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy in the Wisconsin Republican's early days.

But Fulbright himself in 1955 was one of the 19 senators and 77 House members who signed the Southern manifesto denouncing the Supreme Court's 1954 school decision and pledging by "all lawful means" to have it reversed.

And Fulbright has voted consistently against all the Civil Rights Acts passed in this century: in 1957, 1960, 1964 and 1965.

Long ago - in 1946 - in an address on the role of the legislator in American life, Fulbright gave some insights into his thinking about the problems of a member of Congress like himself.

He said a legislator learns early there are "certain interests, or prejudices, of his constituents which are dangerous to trifle with."

Some of these prejudices, he said, are not of fundamental importance to the welfare of the nation and the legislator therefore is "justified in humoring them, even though he may disapprove."

He said he didn't consider the endless battle in Congress over abolishing the poll tax - the big civil rights issue of the 1940s - as of fundamental importance and so would "follow the views of the people of my state."

But, he said, on an issue as important as supporting the United Nations, he would support it no matter how his constituents felt.

Fulbright has needed presidents other than Johnson. In 1958 he called Eisenhower's foreign policy a "drift to disaster."

And when the Republicans gained control of Congress in 1946, Fulbright suggested President Harry S. Truman resign after appointing a Republican secretary of state to succeed him. There was no vice president then.

7 Persons Killed in Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A three-car collision on Arkansas 10 about 17 miles west of Little Rock near Lake Maumelle Sunday night claimed one life and injured eight other persons, including five children.

State Police said Leroy D. Ellis, 22, of Dardanelle was killed and that none of the others was injured seriously.

Ellis was among seven persons killed in weekend traffic accidents in Arkansas, an Associated Press count showed today.

Two teenage boys were killed shortly after 6 p.m. Saturday when the bicycle they were riding was struck by a car on U.S. 64 about eight miles east of Wynne. State Police said the dead were Sam Ragland, 17, of Wynne, and Thomas Alexander, 16, of Parkin. Officers said the bicycle was struck by a car driven by Daniel McNeerney of West Memphis as he tried to pass a bus.

Billy Joe Hicks, 37, of Booneville was killed Saturday night when his car struck a bridge and caught fire about three miles south of Paris on Arkansas 109.

Edward Gullett, 32, of Gravette died Saturday night of injuries he received earlier in the evening when his car overturned several times two miles south of Sulphur Springs on Arkansas 59.

Howell Toler, a 19-year-old Malvern youth, was killed Saturday when his car left U.S. 67 about five miles south of Benton and struck a tree.

Georgia Updike, 56, of Detroit was killed Saturday when her car apparently skidded on ice and overturned several times about 2.5 miles south of Blytheville on Arkansas 55.

Planes Hit Near Hanoi, Bag Red Jet

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) - U.S. jets flew through a sky full of challenging Communist MIGs Sunday to bomb targets near Hanoi, and pilots reported shooting down one of the Red jets and probably a second.

Retaliating for the heaviest U.S. air losses of the war two days earlier, the American fliers also claimed widespread destruction to one of North Viet Nam's major railroad marshalling yards six miles northeast of Hanoi.

While the air war swirled around the North Vietnamese capital, fresh fighting was reported on the edge of South Viet Nam's capital at the Tan Son Nhut Airport.

American guards led by sentry dogs reported killing 12 more Viet Cong in flushing out remnants of an enemy suicide force which penetrated the big air base Sunday.

In the last two days, U.S. spokesmen reported, 30 Viet Cong were killed inside the defensive perimeter of Saigon's air base. Three Americans were killed and five wounded in the first Viet Cong attack. U.S. casualties in later action were reported light. One U.S. Jet fighter and a Vietnamese transport were damaged.

Off the coast of North Viet Nam, the U.S. destroyer Ingersoll fought a gun duel with North Vietnamese shore batteries this morning, U.S. headquarters reported.

A spokesman said the shore batteries opened fire on the Ingersoll while she patrolled six miles off the southern coast of North Viet Nam. The Ingersoll replied with her five-inch guns.

A U.S. spokesman said the destroyer suffered slight damage but no casualties. He had no assessment of damage to the shore guns. The engagement took place 11 miles northeast of Dong Hoi, the spokesman said.

The stepped up air war around Hanoi dominated the war picture as only small, scattered ground actions again were reported.

U.S. headquarters said American pilots clashed with MIGs and the advanced model delta-wing MIG21s in four encounters. In addition, there were "numerous sightings" of the Soviet-designed jets by U.S. fliers, a spokesman said.

The one MIG shot down and the one "probable" were both the older MIG17s and were credited to Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs.

The kills were scored two days after the United States lost eight planes and 13 fliers in the worst single-day's toll of men and planes in nearly two years of aerial combat over the North.

U.S. fliers are now credited with 26 MIGs downed in the war and two probably destroyed. Five American planes have been reported shot down by MIGs.

U.S. headquarters said no American planes were lost in raids Sunday.

The MIG kills came while about 16 Air Force fighter-bombers pummeled the Ha Gia oil storage depot 14 1/2 miles north of Hanoi. It was the second raid on the big complex in three days.

U.S. spokesmen said the depot contained 45 buildings and could store nearly 3 million gallons of petroleum. U.S. pilots reported heavy damage to buildings, a large secondary explosion and numerous oil fires.
